Through these doorways pass the students who will some day be the leaders and citizens of our community. These doorways lead to mental growth, social development, physical maturity, spiritual fulfillment, and emotional development.

When we open the door to mental growth, we realize that learning is the necessary skill in all communications. Through learning, we achieve stability in our growth, in our development, and in our social and academic proficiency.

Mentally we are reaching a plateau of understanding. We are learning wholesome attitudes, achieving social responsibilities, and gaining a more adequate store of knowledge and interest.

Therefore, the goal of our faculty is to instill a desire to mature mentally. This stepping stone to higher education applies to the sophomores as they enter South, the juniors as they continue through South, and the seniors as they step out into the future.

Administrators

Our Principal, "Pappy" Aschenbrenner, supervises the deans, faculty and student body of South Salem High. Most of the responsibility for the efficient functioning of the school rests on his shoulders. Mr. "A" is known for the droll and witty humor expressed in his daily P.A. announcements. He has a traditional way of expressing approval or dissatisfaction to the students. Roses signify perfection and symbolize his expression of approval of student achievements and honors. Dandelions, on the other hand, indicate inadequacy and express his dissatisfaction of student conduct and lack of achievement.

Mr. Brown, our congenial vice-principal, gives much of his time to listen to the countless and varied problems of troubled students. Frequently, he is engrossed in counseling seniors interested in training schools or colleges and in giving aid in applying for scholarships. Mr. Brown is in charge of the school's general curriculum, and in this capacity has increased the number of new academic opportunities for the students of South High.

Miss Heringer, Dean of Girls, is a graduate of Minot Teachers College in North Dakota, and attained a Masters Degree at Willamette University. As advisor for Girls League, she encourages the cabinet to use individual initiative in program planning. Miss Heringer gives personal attention to both individual and group problems.

Mr. Ramsdell, Dean of Boys, was educated at Willamette University and there attained a Masters Degree. His main duty is to counsel boys concerning their problems, but he also supervises student parking and traffic regulations.

Counselors Advise

A staff of six counselors, with headquarters in the new Guidance Center, are now on duty at South High. The four counselors, who aid the deans in solving student problems and in improving student-teacher relationships, are Mrs. Craft, Sophomore Class counselor and teacher of health; Mrs. Edmiston, Junior Class counselor and teacher of English; Mr. Johnson, Senior Class counselor and typing teacher; and Mr. Tilton, Counselor in charge of the testing program and American Problems teacher.

Mrs. Edmiston, Mrs. Nelson, secretary; Mrs. Craft, Mr. Tilton, Mr. Johnson.

School Board Organizes

The School Board consists of nine members. Four of these members are from the administration office and five are elected by the voters of the community.

Inspires

"The greatest gift is the gift of knowledge". It is from the faculty of a school that students receive this gift. Through a combination of information and guidance, the faculty gives the students of South High a background for further study, valuable training for occupations, the basis for good citizenship, and skills for making use of leisure time.

Proof that this gift of knowledge has been well-used is the high achievement of South students on national tests.

Sophs Get in the Swing

Nearly five hundred Sophomores entered the prestiged halls of South High in the fall of 1960.

Soon after arrival, the Sophomores found themselves in the auditorium taking their Iowa Tests, in which South ranked in the top two per cent in national standings.

In October, the Sophomores joined the Juniors and Seniors in the drive for the United Fund, and placed third with the total of $206.77.

The Sophs chose "GiGi" as their class movie to be shown in March, on the 28th, the 29th, and the 31st.

The Sophomores have just started their brief sojourn through South High, and already they have begun to observe the old traditions along with the rest of the studentry. This is our graduating class of 1963.

Mrs. Craft, the Sophomore Class Counselor.

Mary Lee Milne, Karen Hedge, Danny Hughes, and Larry Fisher discover that leaves aren't as simple as they appear.

Informality is one of the advantages of a smaller class.

Variety of Classes Offered Saxons

The advent of the 1960 school year saw the traditional honor roll being discarded in favor of letters of recognition for students who performed well in their respective fields.

As in past years, the Saxons showed that they take their school work seriously and have high potential by their outstanding ratings on scholastic tests.

An English class is caught in an informal moment.

One of the high lights of the cooking class was the annual turkey dinner. Margaret Falleur and her father did the carving.

Dressmaking begins with cutting out the dress as Sandra Walker and Jolene Settlemier illustrate.

Sharee Ertz displays "Big Boot" to second year Latin class.

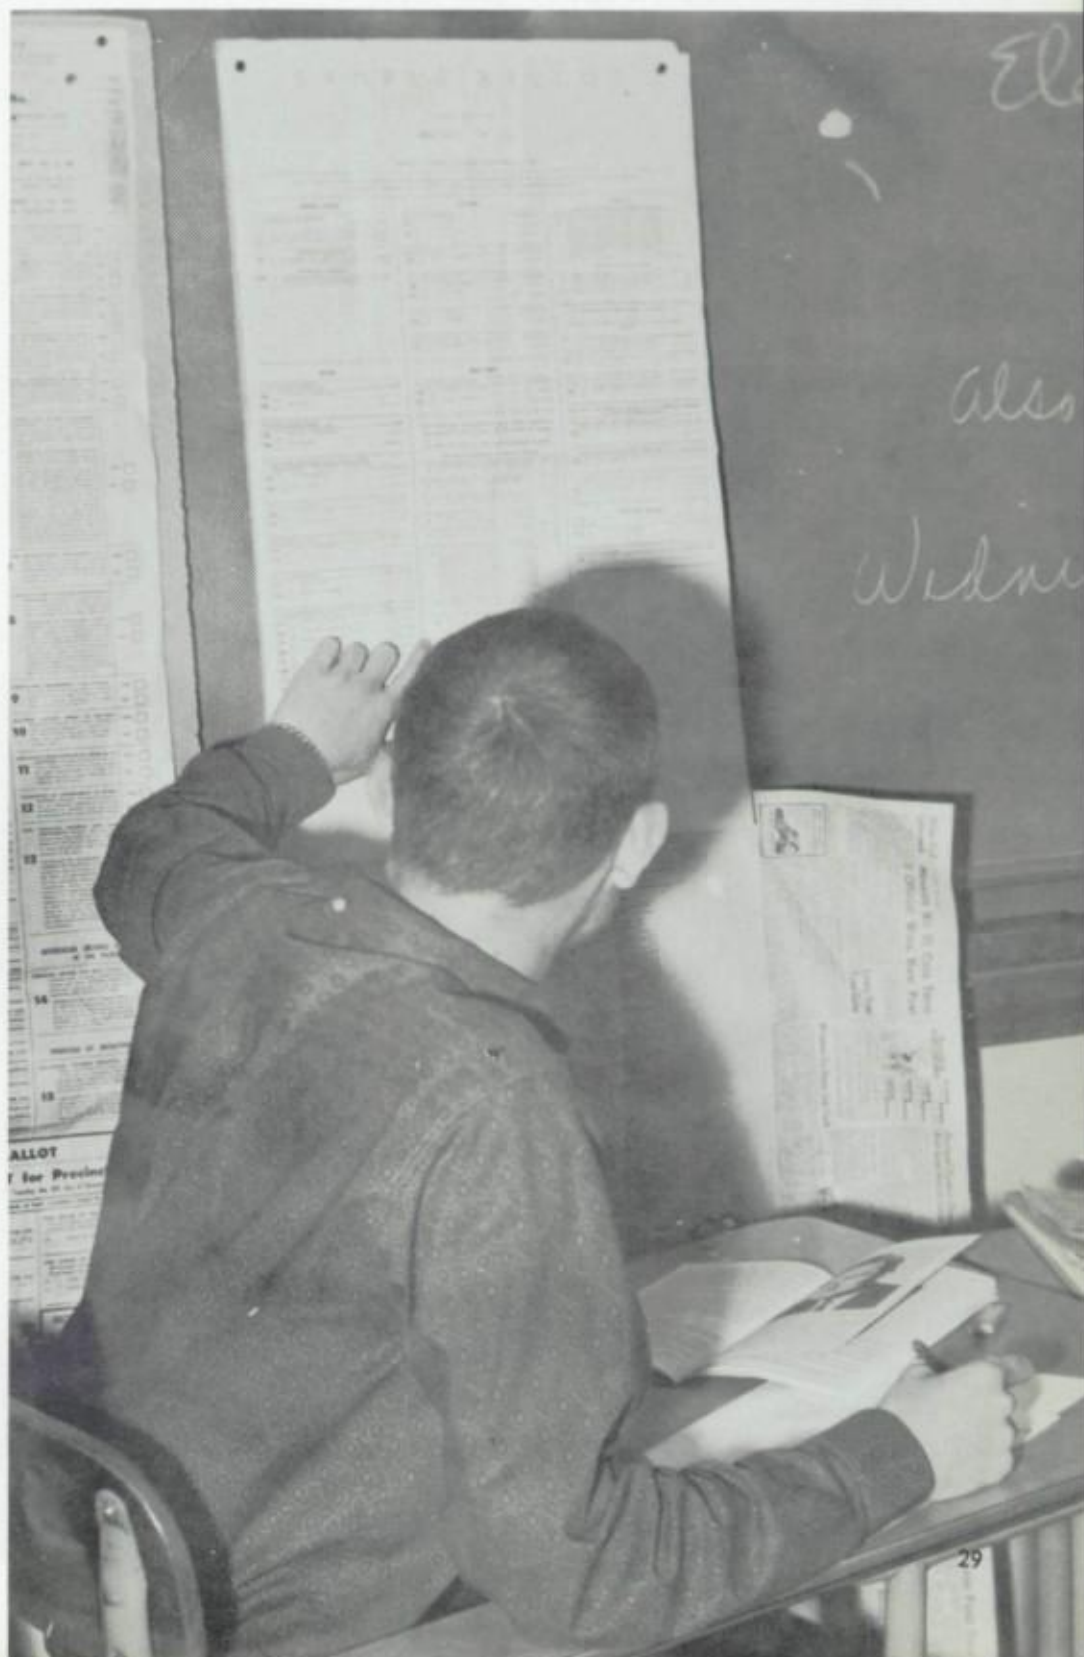

Donna Moore put her artistic abilities to work punctuating bulletin boards.

Interests Vary With Courses

1960 being an election year, U. S. history classes had an opportunity to study elections and balloting procedure.

Each Thursday in the East Balcony, we can see many South students dancing away the noon hour. The East Balcony door has come to be a symbol of enjoyment to all of us.

After game dances, the Coronation Ball, the Sweetheart Formal, and the new Homecoming Dance for the "grads" were all held in the East Balcony.

Twirp Day and Cotton Day were held in the Spring. Again this year the girls were slaves as they waited upon the boys hand and foot. On Cotton Day the girls appeared in new spring dresses and the boys in cotton shirts.

All these activities played an important part in developing an attitude toward social maturity.

Congratulations Jo Ann!

The Coronation court: Terri Blum and Don Royce, Maggie Lancefield and Roy Feiring, Barb Blaisdell and Larry Rector, Micky Phouts and Dennis Perry, Jo Anne Hicks and Jerry Madison, Nancy Van Houten and Skip Kellicut, Lynne deVries and Jack Fox, Barb Curlin and Steve Stewart, Rondi Douglas and Larry Brown, Pat Stivers and Rick Biles.

"Moonlight and Roses"

Jo Anne Hicks was named the first lady of South Salem when she was chosen Queen of the Coronation Ball, held January 21 in the east balcony. Micky Phouts was chosen first crown princess and Nancy Van Houten was second. Approximately one hundred couples attended the affair and danced to the music of Lyle Glazier's orchestra.

Sandy Snedon, general chairman, and the Social committee planned and decorated for the dance.

A committee whose hard work is obvious throughout the school year is the Social Committee. It is their task to plan and decorate for the many dances sponsored by the ASB. High light in their achievements was the spectacular decor of the Annual Coronation Ball, held January 21.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE, Row 1: A. Hicks, S. Sneddon, P. Ritchie. Row 2: L. Bodenweiser, M. McGlinn, B. Hamilton.

Capable Workers Provide Excellent Dances

"Grads" chuckled as past experiences are recalled to them in the Homecoming assembly.

Assistant Homecoming Hosts and Hostess were Larry Brown, Carol Robb, Maggie Lancefield, and Roy Fering.

Homecoming Host and Hostess were Terri Blum and Don Royce.

Students Stages 6th Annual Homecoming

Graduates received a warm welcome from the students of South on December 23, 1960 when they returned for the traditional homecoming festivities. The "grads" were invited to attend the events that were especially planned in their honor. After the Christmas and homecoming assembly, the graduates reported to the east balcony for a tea and reception given by the senior class. Throughout the afternoon graduates had many opportunities to visit their former teachers and classmates.

Graduates mingled freely at the Homecoming Tea.

That Saxon Spirit Never Fails

The Saxon team seems concerned as students yell for victory.

Mrs. Bates, Ron Woodard, makes an appearance at the Halloween Assembly.

THE BLUE TONES—Denny Nelson, Vin Fichter, Jerry Olson, and Don Brown sing "Blue Moon" at the Halloween Assembly.

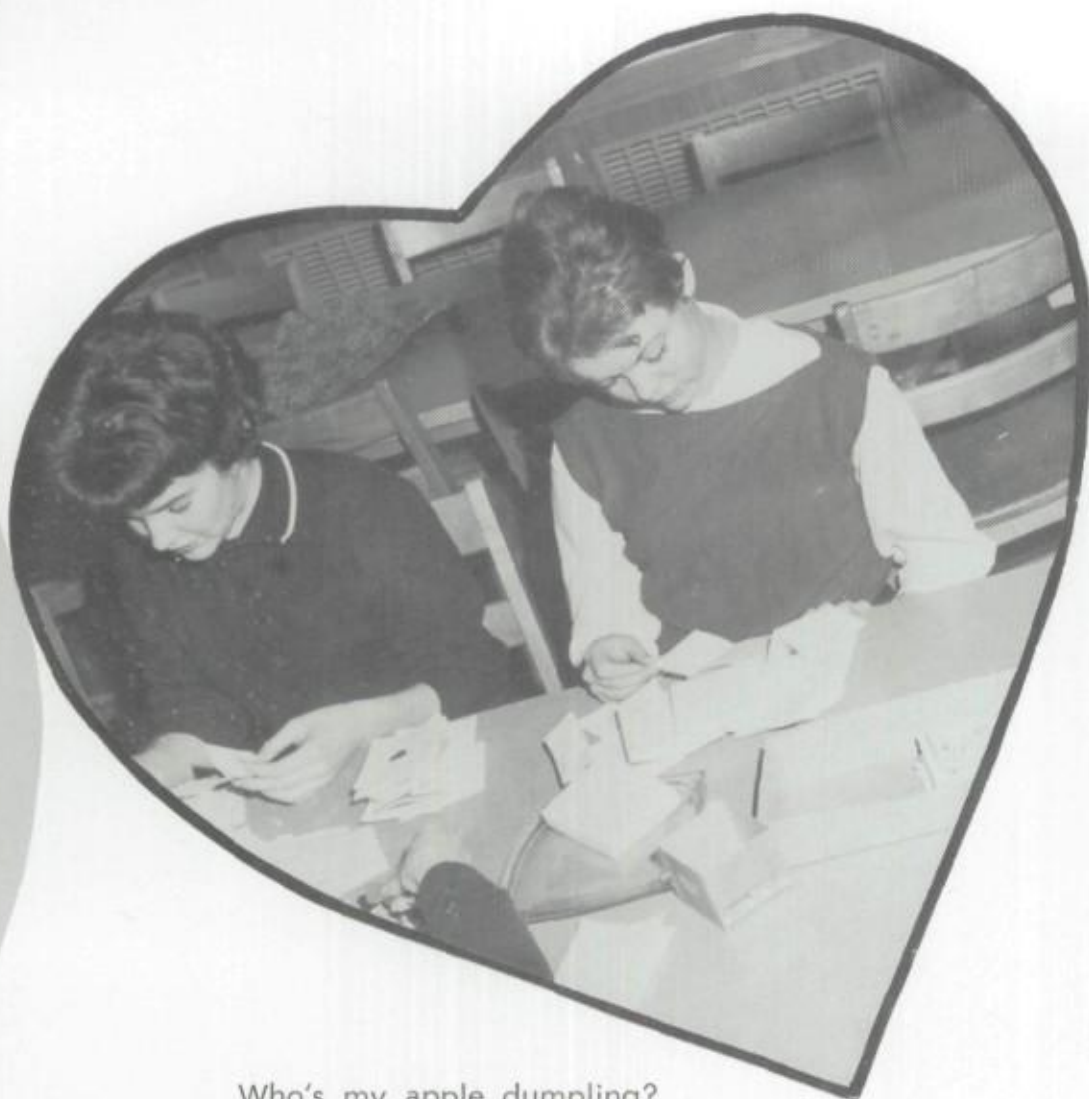

Halloween-Vacation Time

"I need a vacation!" chanted Richard Hawkins moderator of the Halloween Assembly held October 28. Richard portrayed the studious boy who needed a vacation, and Jane Trezise posed as the travel agent who guided Richard on his many journeys.

Each episode in the travels was depicted by a skit displaying Saxon talent. Vocal and instrumental music, dancing, pantomime, and humor were used to tell of Richard's futile search for pleasure.

Man! Watch those "cats!" Bruce Barnes, Dick Bradley and Jim Breithaupt go "At the Hop."

Who's my apple dumpling?
 Who's my sugar plum?
 Who's my ginger cookie?
 Well, it isn't you, you crumb!

Reigning over the Hi-Y Sweet-heart formal of 1961 was Julee Dodge. She was crowned by John Saffron, at the annual dance, held February 11, in the East Balcony. Her court: Carol Robb, Jerrie Gustafson, Lyle Janes—and students from both North and South danced to the music of Arnie Manke.

Bruce takes advantage of Twirp Day.

We Call It Twirp Day

Sherron seems to find Butch entertaining.

Each year the citizens of South Salem set aside one day for a relief from the so-called "conservative" dress in favor of a more "liberal" one. This day is called Twirp Day which means the girl acts as escort, pays the boy's expenses, and caters to his whims.

Twirp Day originated in the early 40's as a part of the comic strip "Freckles and His Friends."

Two intellectual characters on Twirp Day.

A smile for spring.

Spotlight on Cotton

Brightly colored cotton dresses were the vogue as girls of South Salem ushered in spring with their annual Cotton Day. Carnations, which were purchased by the girls, accented the dresses and were a tribute to spring. Pat Stivers was chairman of the Cotton Day festivities, sponsored by the Girls' League.

South halls were full of girls in gay dresses on Cotton Day.

Sue Oliver greets spring with a daffodil.

Physical

The doors opening into our gym make us stop and recall the many basketball games and wrestling matches that we have viewed here. In both sports the Saxons again led South to victory. For the second consecutive year, our Saxons have earned a berth in the State Basketball Tournament; in wrestling, Craig Wallner was district champion, and South sent two men to State Tournament. Our football and baseball teams excelled in their respective sports. We feel our teams were supported enthusiastically by the students at South. The Pep Club and Rowdy Douds combined their efforts to provide entertainment while receiving mutual benefit from working together.

Physical maturity involves growing in sportsmanship as well as possessing the desire to win. The many opportunities South Salem students have to participate in sports, as either team member or spectator, help to pave the way to real maturity.

Gridmen Run Hot and Cold

You'd think the players would be tired, not the coach!

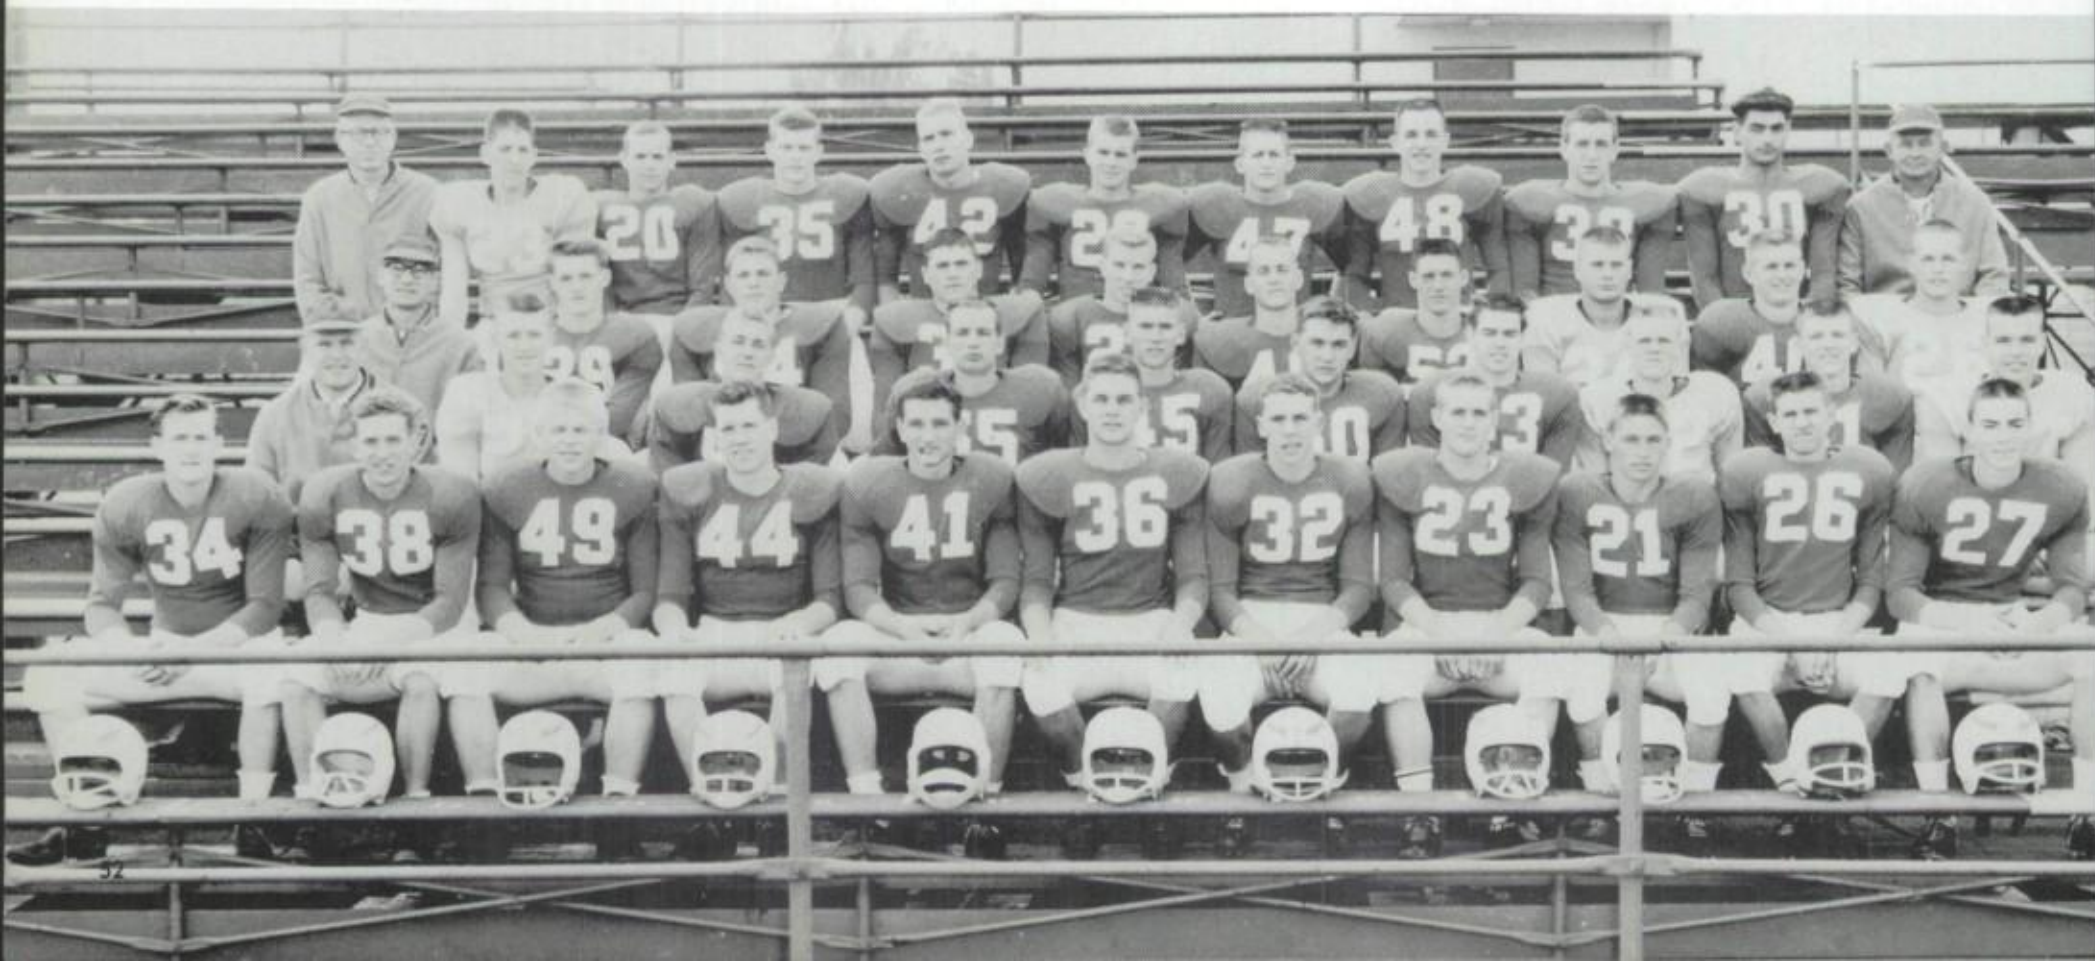

This was the group of boys that turned out at the beginning of the season. Row 1: T. Baker, D. Comstock, D. Thompson, C. Cauble, K. Kool, B. Hohwiesner, D. Schur, G. Edwards, K. Morey, A. Fine, J. Glodt. Row 2: Coach Reeve, D. Clark, D. Darst, B. Sloan, J. Sanders, J. Ramsden, D. Brimm, D. Stevenson, D. Robinson, B. Campbell. Row 3: Coach DeLoretto, C. Knox,

A 3-2 league record (also third place), and a 4-4-1 record in total play tells the story of the 1960 grid season for South Salem. The gridmen opened the season with a disheartening 27-13 loss to North Salem; the second encounter saw them tie Kelso, Washington 20-20; the first district game was lost to Albany 26-19; and a non-league match gave Medford Black Tornadoes a 35-6 win over the Saxons. Mid-season rolled around and the Saxons started to sparkle, beating Sweet Home 33-0; Lebanon 18-12; Corvallis 13-7; and North Eugene 33-12. The final blow to Saxon hopes for tournament play came via a 27-7 loss to our cross-town rivals, North Salem.

J.V. back makes it look easy as he goes through opponents line.

Although Saxon J.V.'s have been defeated three times in the history of the school, they had not until this year gone down to another J.V. team. All previous defeats were to varsity teams from smaller schools in the area. The only other blot on the record was a tie, (the 2nd), with North Salem J.V.'s which gave the Baby Saxons a 6-1-1 record.

Backed by the Saxons, our high-spirited Rally Squad performed in lively pep assemblies and at football and basketball games. Besides introducing a great number of yells and routines, they presented many humorous skits. Gathered around the mighty Saxon are Song Queens Jo Ann Hicks, Terrie Gustafson, Mickey Pfouts, Lynne deVries, Julee Dodge and Barbara Fouчек; and Yell Kings Jim Breithaupt, Richard Hawkins and Craig Wollner.

'61 Was Lots of Fun

Santa, J. Krueger, passed out presents at one of the games.

The intermediate Saxons began the year by winning the United Fund Drive. A talent show organized by members of the junior class enabled them to capture the victory.

Ann Harvey, general chairman of the prom, and her committee chairmen—Peggy Cook, program; Laura De Weese, chaperones; Sharron Mills, publicity; Mary Clark, refreshments; Doug Morgan, decorations; and Walt Barger, cleanup; worked exceptionally hard on the Junior-Senior Prom "Castle of Dreams."

For whom did they vote?

Mrs. Edmiston, new to South this year, became junior class advisor under the new counseling system.

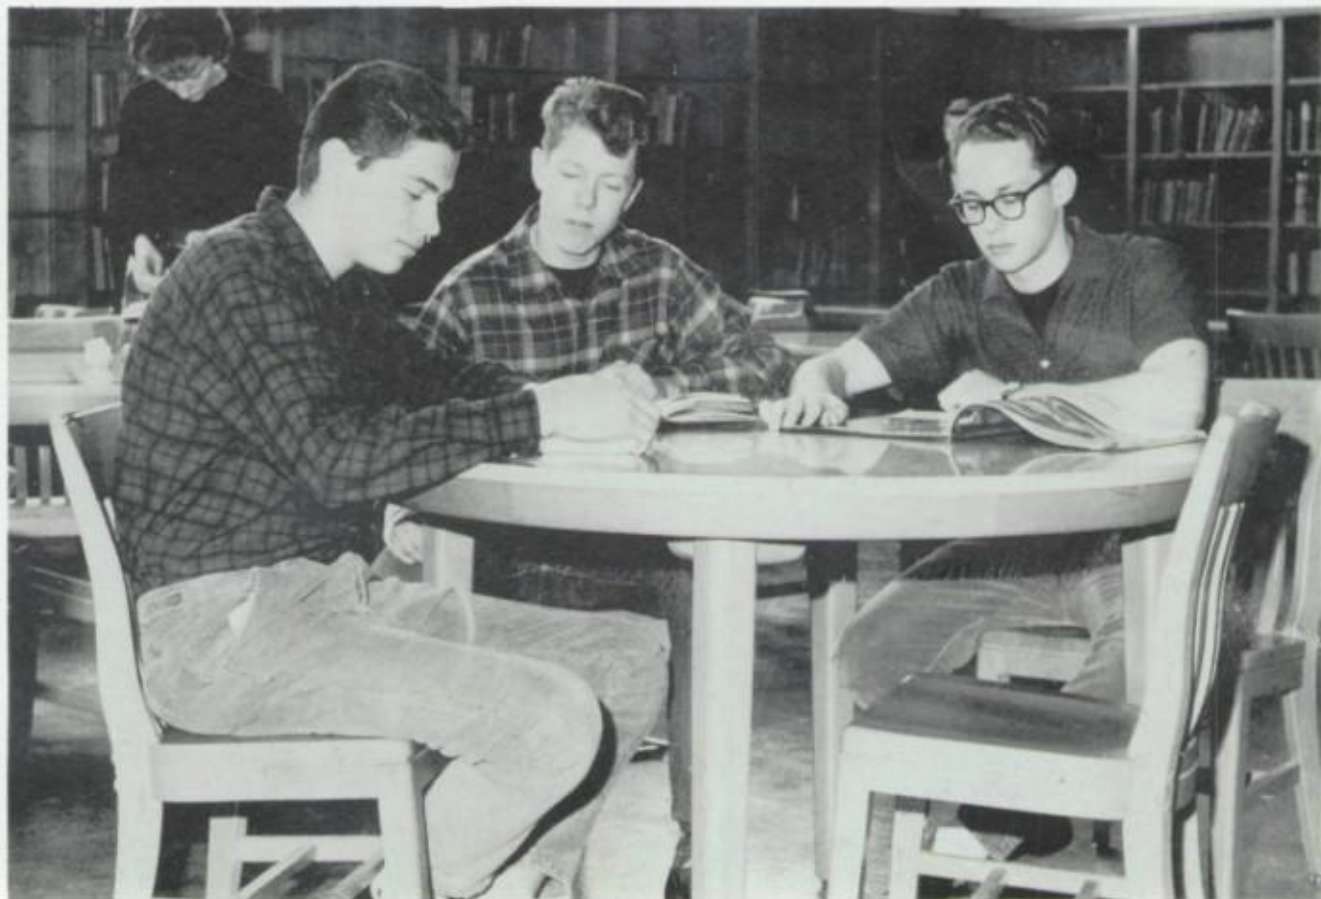

The junior class movie "My Pal Joey," helped to finance this event.

Connie Long, Laura De Weese, Sharron Mills, and Marilee Watts were the four finalists in the American Field Service. One of these four will take a trip abroad this summer.

Laura De Weese was the only junior who scored in the top 1% in both divisions of the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test. Ten other students placed in the top 1% in one of the two tests.

The Merrit Scholarship Test showed South ranking high again.

There's always a first time.

The wrestling team has grown in size and has proved more successful each year; 1960-61 was no exception. Five wrestlers, finding themselves consistently in the winning column, kept South in a position where they were a threat to all opponents. South Salem wrestlers placed fourth in district competition, sending Craig Wollner and Jim Kruger on to the state meet in Corvallis, March 3 and 4. Prospects for next season are particularly bright as the J.V. team maintained an undefeated status for the entire season.

For two consecutive years, tourney-minded basketball fans have found encouragement in the Saxon basketball squad. At mid-season the cagers had attained a lead position in district play. A tight defense and a tremendous fast break kept them one step beyond their opponent in each of their encounters, and they finished the season with a record that once again brought pride to South Salem.

JV Saxons Show Fighting Spirit

The 1960-61 junior varsity basketball team, under the coaching of Mr. Metzger, provided thrills seldom before seen in J.V. play. Although lacking in height, the team nevertheless at mid-season found themselves on the top in district play.

The J.V.'s participate in the Civil War, too.

PEP CLUB AND ROWDY DOWDS

The white shirts of the Rowdy Dowds and White and Red outfits of the pep club are colorful manifestations of the traditional South Salem school spirit throughout football and basketball seasons. Rowdy Dowds with their impromptu skits, add bits of humor to the cheering section during each game; and the Marching Toads present unusual routines as half-time entertainment.

The 1960 swim team, whose membership had doubled since the previous year, stroked their way through a 6 win-5 loss season. At the district meet the Saxon swimmers took fifth place making them eligible for state competition. However, Coby Grabenhorst was the only Saxon to place at the state meet. Throughout the season several new individual records were set by members of the squad.

The first place sportsmanship award and a seventh place basketball award were won by South Salem in the 1961 State Basketball Tournament in Eugene, March 14-18. First foes for the Saxons were the Bend Lava Bears. After a victory in this fray, they went on to meet defending state champs, the Medford Tornadoes at whose hands they suffered the loss that took them out of championship play. In the third encounter, Dave Nielsen tipped in the winning basket against Roseburg in a sudden death overtime. In the final game of the tourney, a second half comeback attempt brought the Saxons within five points of taking fourth place from South Eugene.

As we continue through the doorways of learning, we pause to contemplate the spiritual side of life. Many lasting memories of the musical festivals, concerts, and the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter assemblies linger.

Caroline Bouchon, South Salem's foreign exchange student, was born in Paris, France on April 30, 1943. She graduated from high school last year and she is now a senior at South.

When at home, Caroline lives in a fourth floor Paris apartment with her parents and her twenty year old sister, Elizabeth. Mr. Bouchon is a dentist.

After returning home at the end of the school year, Caroline plans to go to Beaux Art College in Paris. There she will major in architecture.

The Senior class committee for the United Fund Drive consisted of Max Boese, Ann Hicks, Candy Painter and Barb Long.

Candy sales were very popular among all classes.

Teamwork and the extra push given by committee chairman Barbara Long was all that South needed to go over their goal of $600 in the 1960 United Fund Drive.

Competition between classes and home rooms added spirit to the drive. The Juniors staged a talent show which placed them in first place with a total of $287.61. The Seniors held many doughnut and candy sales in the center hall for a gross income of $222.22. The "Baby Saxons" did their part by holding, among other things, a car wash, which helped them to contribute $206.77.

In home room competition Mr. Voight's senior home-room received top honors by giving $45 to the drive.

The grand total raised in the South Salem drive was $716.

GIRL'S LEAGUE OFFICERS: Vice President, Sue Charles; President, Eileen Hadley; Treasurer, Pat Pierce. The committee members: Linda Isham, Maggie Lancefield, Alyce Bahr, LeeAnn Scheildemann, Mary Clark, Barb Hamilton, and Pat Stivers.

The Girl's League arranged the orientation tour held annually for new students. At Christmas they decorated the tree in the center hall and had their sweater drive for Hillcrest. In this competition, the Junior girls won a cake for their effort. Other undertakings were the magazine drive, Val-o-grams, and style show.

The many money-raising projects—candy sales, spudnut sales, etc. — helped to spell financial success for the Girls Letter Club. Other activities of the club included Christmas caroling, the father-daughter play night, the mother-daughter play night, a basketball sport day (in which 12 schools were invited to participate) and the Faculty-Student basketball game. The annual awards banquet in May climaxed their year.

Officers and Cabinet of the Girl's Letter Club are the following: Vice President, Nancy Loukojarvi; Sandy Brown; President, Vicki Fronk; Mary Karklins, Bonnie Boese, Mary Griffith, Mrs. Middleton, Delores Stark, Mary Flesch, Miss Zimdars, and Miss Earnest.

The 1960-61 Girls' League magazine drive was held in the month of November. This drive, sponsored primarily to furnish funds for scholarships, is participated in by nearly all girls in school. Prizes are offered to those who rank highest in the number of subscriptions sold.

Pauline Bradrick was the top seller with a total of $139.55 in subscriptions. Laila Beaver ranked second with $79.20 in subscriptions, and Betsy McVay was third with $55.45 in subscriptions.

Mystery prize winners were chosen daily during the drive and girls whose names were drawn received the mystery prize.

LANGUAGE CLUBS

French, Latin, and Spanish Clubs boast of large enrollments. One of the highlights of the French club year was the Christmas caroling with the Willamette French club members in early December. At the French club initiation new French club members were asked the question, "Baissez-moi, Si vous plait?" They did get kissed, but raw cold liver was the substitute for Brigitte Bardot. The President of French club is Chrys Stillings and the advisor is Mrs. Smith. Spanish club held a pot-luck initiation in October. Elana Lehman from Venezuela told the Spanish club about the customs of her country. Old members enjoyment was hampered by the rituals of feeding each other, eating with the left hand, and cutting square corners. Spanish club is headed by President John Saffron and advised by Miss Christenson. The Latin club initiates were adorned in Roman dress at their annual initiation in October. The Romans were served refreshments and were forced to decline nouns. A swimming party is scheduled in December at the Y.W.C.A. Latin club is led by President Corby Hann and advised by Miss Anderson.

Receiving first place at the French club initiation for her provincial costume from Brittany is sophomore Marj Wenger.

Music, Music, Music

The band made its appearance at school assemblies and at football games. On one occasion they combined forces with the North Salem band to entertain at the halftime of a North-South football game. The less-serious pep band played for basketball games and provided halftime entertainment. Their director was Mr. Wallace Johnson, and president of the band was Dave Schildmeyer.

The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Peter Frajola, performed various numbers at our Thanksgiving assembly and fall musical. Another important performance was the all-school musical festival held early in February. Officers of the orchestra are Dick Reed, president, and Kathy Nunn, librarian.

Sing with the Saxons

The choir annually provides the music portion of our serious Thanksgiving and Christmas assemblies. Among other performances this year were a concert at Franklin High in Portland and two Christmas concerts at the Capitol Mall. Mixed Chorus and Girls' Glee sing for outside activities and school functions. Six smaller choral groups, formed of choir members, entertain for social activities. All of these groups are under the direction of Mr. Lou Kelly.

E m o t i o n a l

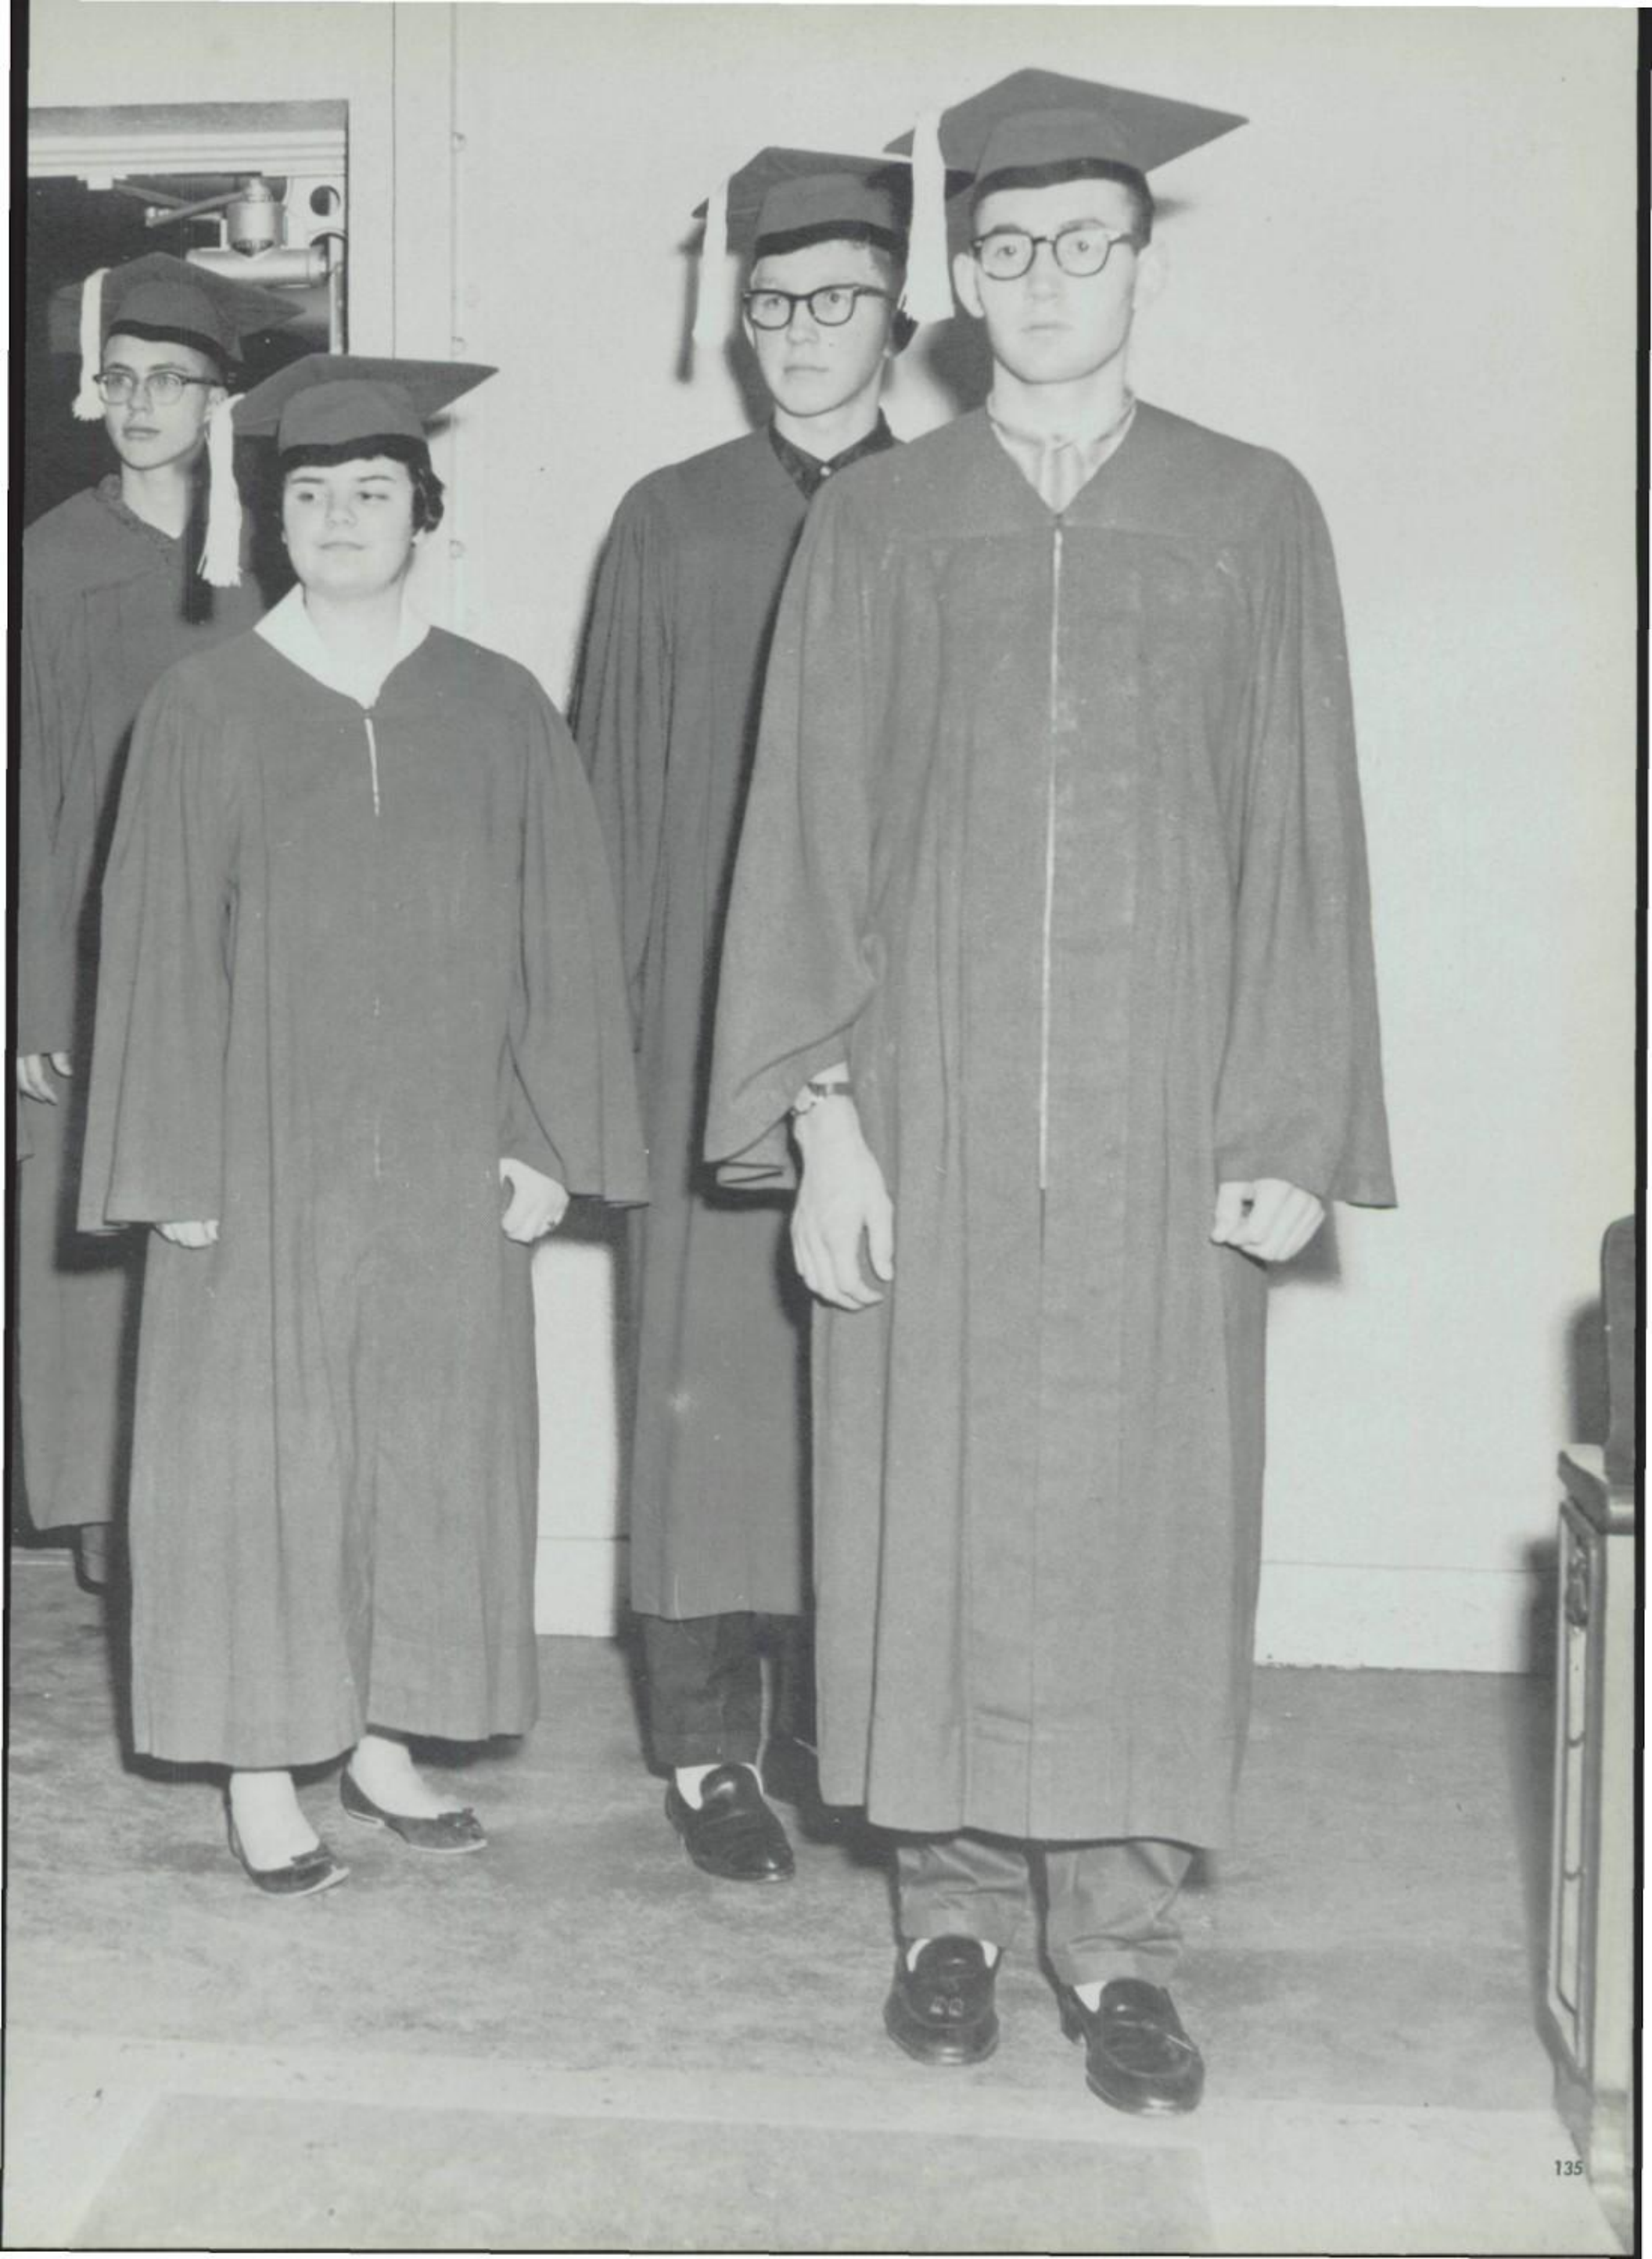

The last and most important door to the future, is the door to emotional maturity. The door to emotional growth is important to all students at South but particularly to the seniors as they finish their senior year.

The final accomplishments of the senior class will serve as goals for the under classmen. Our class has shown an array of talents in sports, social activities, and scholastic abilities, which will be put into use in professions, vocations, and in citizenship.

Out of our senior class, five Saxons placed in the National Merit Scholarship finals.

As we, the senior class, leave South Salem we wish the coming classes as much success as we have had and memories as fond as those that linger with us.

Second Vice Pres.	Sandy Sneddon
Sec.-Treas.	Barbara Blaisdell

These Students Discuss Our School Problems

A. S. B. OFFICERS

Larry Rector, champion cross-country runner is the sixth president of South Salem High. Besides his other presidential duties, Larry provided for a scrapbook committee, and constitutional revision committee, and attended the Northwest Student Council Conference at Eugene on November 26. First Vice-President Randi Douglas planned four major assemblies and organized "Funzapoppin." Randi's own experience as a performer (a folk dancer) proved a valuable background for planning assemblies. Sandy Sneddon, second Vice President worked diligently to plan the main social functions at South. She organized the Coronation Ball, the Twirp Dance, football after-game dances, and supervised all Thursday noon dances. Barbara Blaisdell, adequately fulfilled her important role as Secretary-Treasurer. She took minutes at all student council meetings, signed student-body cards, kept up school correspondence, and changed the calendar of events in the center hall. Barbara attended the Student Leadership Conference at the University of Oregon during the summer.

Monthly Awards Given to Boys and Girls

Larry Rector was September's Rotarian. October's Rotarian and Girl of the Month were Rick Biles and Eileen Hadley.

November's Rotarian and Girl of the Month were Don Royse and Chris Stillings.

Carol Robb and Denny Perry were December's Girl and Rotarian.

George Smith and Kathy Sprague were chosen for the month of January.

February's Girl of the Month and Rotarian were Candy Painter and Ed Perkins.

Larry Brown and Maggie Lancefield were chosen Girl and Boy of the Month for the month of March.

Outstanding Saxons are rewarded each month for their services to South.

Girls of the Month are chosen by a committee headed by Girls' League representative, Sue Charles. The Rotarian is chosen each month by the Student Council and represents the student body at weekly luncheons of the Salem branch of Rotary International.

During the month for which the girl is chosen, she wears the Girl of the Month bracelet with her name engraved on it. At the end of the year, one of the year's Girls of the Month is elected by the student body as Girl of the Year. As a part of this honor, she is given the bracelet as a gift.

Caroline Beuchon and Max Boese were Girl of the Month and Rotarian during April.

Micky Snyder and Dick Bradley were chosen Girl of the Month and Rotarian for the month of May.

Seniors, You Made It! Class of '61

The open door of formal education is closing for the last time for many Seniors. Some will continue with their education, and others will go to work. While the door is still open, let's look back and see what has taken place.

The 1960 United Fund Drive was won by Mrs. Voigt's Senior Home Room 224. The Drive was undertaken with much zeal by each class and each home room. Soon after the United Fund came the Senior Class Movie "Rally Round The Flag, Boys."

The graduating class of 1961 also contributed four people to the Merit Scholarship finals—Jay Painter, Chrys Stillings, Bert Shaw, and Alice Dench. Our foreign exchange student this year was Caroline Bouchon. Outstanding in the sports department was the selection of "Big Bear" Barry Fuller as linesman of the year.
